The interface shows a file explorer on the left, a central pane with the HelpNDoc logo and text, and a right pane with a list of files. It's a sample text for the HelpNDoc software. HelpNDoc is an easy to use yet powerful and intuitive help authoring environment which provides a clear and efficient user interface to build most common CHM help files, single-page HTML-based documentation, PDF and Word documents, ePub and Kindle eBooks as well as Qt help files from a single source without worrying about the inner working of help file generation.
